“The Business of Golf”

Global golf supply

While golf is undoubtedly spreading around the globe, the worldwide supply remains highly concentrated among the top 20 golfing nations.

As of year-end 2014, 34,011 golf facilities have been identified in 206 countries. The vast majority (79%) of that supply is located in the top 10 golfing countries, including Australia, Canada, England, Japan and the United States.

Even as golf development gains momentum in previously under-developed regions such as Asia, Africa and the Caribbean, the bulk of the supply remains largely centralized. In fact, there are far more countries that have only one golf course compared to nations that have more than 100, and even fewer are home to 500 or more.

The majority of worldwide supply is located in the western hemisphere, though not by much. North and South America are home to 55% of the world supply (the US accounts for 45% of the world's facilities). Europe has the second largest supply with 22% of the world total, followed by Asia with 14% and Oceania with 6%.

Though worldwide golf supply contains a large proportion of private clubs, golf resorts and golf-centric real estate developments, the sport remains largely accessible. Of the 34,011 facilities, 71% are open to the public.

At the moment, golf's supply is clearly strongest in the most developed nations, but the sport is growing around the world.

Currently, he is working on his doctorate in Career and Technology Education. Mr. Lucas has over 20 years experience in the golf industry with extensive knowledge in management of golf programs and operations.

Dissertation Title

Empirical study of the effectiveness, reliability, relevancy, and development of a golf management system and tools designed to educate golf course managers towards completing strategic, tactical, and operational plans to improve the financial performance of golf facilities.

Perceptions to Support Study

Observation #1 - You are working too hard on the wrong things that make little difference.

Observation #2 - There must be key measurements that accurately forecast the potential of your facility.

Observation #3 – Weather reporting and forecasting is poor.

Observation #4 - The adoption of technology is template based with little understanding of its power.

Observation #5 – Benchmarking to meaningful competitive statistics is haphazard.

Observation #6 - Capital reserves are underfunded.

Observation #7 – Courses operate with "illusory superiority" thinking that their customers are loyal when they are not.

Observation #8 – Third parties are lowering rates and disintermediating customers.

The Golden Circle of Communication™: Simon Sinek

The “Golden Circle: WHY - HOW - WHAT.”

Every single company and organization on the planet knows WHAT they do. They are easily able to describe their products and services.

Some companies are able to explain HOW they are different — their unique selling position.

Few companies are able to clearly articulate WHY.

He concluded that the most successful companies communicate from the inside out. All other companies communicate from the outside in.

People don't buy WHAT you do; they buy WHY you do it.

Walt Disney World

“Walt Disney World has four 18-hole golf courses and one 9-hole golf course on the property. Two great 18-hole architects, Joe Lee and Tom Fazio, will present you with various challenges in design and course strategy on championship caliber courses.

Combined with Disney’s world-renowned level of service, you will have a great experience playing these courses, whether staying at a Walt Disney World resort on vacation or for a business trip in the area.

The three Joe Lee courses (the Magnolia, Palm and Lake Buena Vista) harken to the original days of Walt Disney World and more traditional Florida golf course design. Through 2012, the Palm and Magnolia courses hosted an annual PGA Tour professional event in the fall of each year, which had been a part of Disney World golf tradition since 1971.

The Tom Fazio designed Osprey Ridge course brings an updated approach to course design with interesting challenges and elevations in the midst of the more remote parts of the Walt Disney World property.”

Walt Disney World

“Be thrilled by a magical journey through an enchanted forest crafted by the leading wizards of golf course sorcery, Tom Fazio and Joe Lee.

While you may be tricked often, Mickey and his friends will ensure that you are charmed and treated to a memorable experience at the Kingdom of entertainment—Disney World.”

Municipal or Daily Fee Golf Course

“We are here to provide a cauldron to allow you to learn how good you are at golf and show you much you appreciate the traditions of the game.”

This would be appropriate wording for a course with a slope rating greater than 140. The subtle message here is to bring your game, and that this is not the facility for rank amateurs who don't appreciate the challenges golf offers and the traditions so respected in golf that shape the culture of the game.

“Torrey Pines: “Welcome to the nation’s foremost municipal golf course.”

Situated atop cliffs towering above the Pacific Ocean in San Diego, California, golfers marvel at the views of the coastline, deep ravines, and classic championship golf holes.

Torrey Pines is the beautiful site of one of the most memorable battles in golf’s history—the 2008 U.S. Open. While taking in the views and gorgeous weather, discover our award-winning golf shop where you can take home some of the magic.

Live close by and want to improve your swing? Or perhaps you’re visiting San Diego on your dream golf vacation. In either case, our popular player development programs will get you smiling, about your game in no time. To learn more, please follow the links below.”

Step 2 - Strategy

Description

The architecture of a golf course varies greatly.
Some are merely "hit it and find it" that don't offer much challenge on flat piece of ground with few trees and bunkers. Others are brilliantly crafted in which the golfers walks through a canopy of nature with many alternatives on how to play a hole. It is hard to describe but you know a great course when you play it.

Vast majority of holes are straight, course is flat, few trees, bunkers, dunes, water hazards and options to play hole are well defined providing few options. No requirement to position shots. No risk/reward options.
A few dog legs with modest bunkering and trees, some rolling terrain, green complexes are uniform throughout the course. One or two risk/reward options
Terrain, bunkers, water hazards, trees, and green complexes provide typical golf experience.
One third of golf holes provide a unique golf experience requiring thought to successfully navigate risk/reward
Up to two-thirds of golf holes provide a challenging experience where placement of the drive and the second shot has a significant impact on the ability to score well.
The putting greens are historic (Raynor, Ross, Tillinghast) where ball position on the green becomes a significant element of playing the course.
The par 3-4 and 5 holes have varying length, i.e., par 3s of 120, 150, 180, and 210 yards.
Course may have dual fairways, bunkering that pinches the fairway, streams crossing the fairway and/or the green, narrow green openings, green side bunkers of varying depth and heavily contoured putting surfaces.

Frequency does not equal loyalty and “firing” your worst customers is a good thing

The Question That Measures Loyalty

Based on your playing experience over the last 24 months, how likely is it that you would recommend the following courses to a friend, colleague, or family member. (Rate your likelihood to recommend on a scale of 0 to 10 with “10” being “Extremely Likely” and “0” being “Not At All Likely.” If you did not play a course please indicate by checking "N/A.")

DID YOU KNOW

Does the Process Work

Your Take – A ways

Lesson #1 - You are working too hard on the wrong things that make little difference: WHY.

Lesson #2 - There are six key measurements that accurately forecast the potential of your facility: MOSIAC, Income, Age, Ethnicity, Golfers Per 18, Slope.

Lesson #3 – 10 Year Playable Day Reports and 11 Month Forecasts. Weather Trends

Lesson #4 - The template website you have created and your current use of technology have little value. Become transaction vs. information oriented

Lesson #5 - Do you know the financial results of your competitors? Benchmark

Lesson #6 - Avoiding the Death Spiral? Invest and budget capital reserves

Lesson #7 – Shattering "illusory superiority" thinking that their customers are loyal when they are not. Secret Shop and Survey

Lesson #8 - Stealing customers from your competitors and from third party tee time providers is easy. Create SKU that identifies third party times sold

Participant Response

“Participating in the Clemson Study with Golf Convergence was one of the best moves we made in 2013. Our company strives to be on the cutting edge, and we do many creative and unique things.

However, going through the steps outlined by Jim Keegan’s “The Business of Golf: What Are You Thinking” was an eye-opening experience for us.

We found many basic areas where we had substantial room for improvement, and came away from the process with a better understanding of our overall business. We have tweaked our business plan in a way that has already resulted in revenue improvement, and I am excited about our ability to continue to make positive changes based on what we learned.”

If you want evaluate the way you are doing business, and compare it to others across the country, this is the class for you. Does the Process Work?

Participant Response

June 2014 saw us increase our sales just in Greens and cart fees by $40,000 with an increased ADR of $3.00.

We have put into effect almost all of your recommendations. And it is working! Here are the things we have done. And I am putting these in order of importance.....

1. Hired a high-quality golf course superintendent who is a fit for our culture. He has totally transformed the quality of our golf courses to rival any course in Northern Michigan.
 2. Using yield-managed tee times through Golfswitch.
 3. Maintaining closer contact with our email database. We are sending more information out (once per week).
 4. More of a golf focus on our website and easier to find where to book tee times
 5. Purchase of new golf accessories such as tee signs, garbage cans, water coolers, ball washers. Also revamped our driving range with all new products. AND USING WHITE RANGE BALLS!!!!
 6. New wooden flagsticks and bunker rakes.
 7. New rough unit and greens roller and bench grinder and reel grinder.
 8. Added amenities to golf carts (hand towels, bag tags, tees) and put a scorecard and pencil with an eraser on each cart.
- Jim I brag to everyone how you brought life back to our golf operation.

I even had Chris and Jim MacInnes say “Thanks for reviving our golf product”. It was forgotten for several years. Bringing you into the picture MADE THE DIFFERENCE!! Cause nobody would listen to me!!
