

GOLF COURSE MANAGEMENT

Notes

- 2,952 municipal golf courses are operating at 2,585 facilities pursuant to the 2025 NGF Golf Facilities Report.
- The survey conducted DID NOT generate a statistically valid response. 111 responses were received, and the revenue spread between the reporting facilities was significant.
- Generating a statistically valid survey with meaningful insights is incredibly challenging. The survey was sent to 2,761 municipal golf industry emails from the SMBGolf database, 3,169 nonduplicative emails from the JJ Keegan+ database, and 702 views from a Linked-In posting.
- Freedom of Information requests were sent to the City of Albuquerque, Dallas, Indianapolis, Louisville, Mecklenburg County, Phoenix, and Spokane. As of the publication date of this report, only Albuquerque, Louisville, and Mecklenburg County responded.
- Concession/management agreements were located from an extensive online search for some courses in the City of Indianapolis, the Forest Preserve District of Cook County, and Los Angeles County.
- We conducted interviews with the head of business development for leading management companies and commercial real estate brokerage firms, gaining insights on their industry benchmarks.
- These slides present an informed opinion based on available research, though not backed by extensive empirical data. Still, we believe the conclusions reached are reasonable as they likely align with what a statistically valid sample would show, based on established benchmarks.

Opinions

- The majority of municipal golf courses are self-managed, principally in an Enterprise Fund.
- Municipalities often get into arrangements that are not in favor to their constituents' best interest when they enter into a "bidding process" that is nothing more than a slow dance with their preselected partner.
- Decisions made by bureaucrats with no real knowledge or understanding of the golf business often result in poor arrangements based on politics rather than performance, e.g. Mecklenburg County
- If a golf course is leased to a third party, the activities most likely to be leased in descending order are:
  - First – Restaurant (due to liquor liability)
  - Second - Restaurant and Golf Shop
  - Lastly - Restaurant, Golf Shop, and Maintenance
- Concession rental agreements vary widely between municipalities based on the size of the population, geographic location, and the deferred capital investment at the time of the agreement's initiation, with the average length equaling 30 years.
- The larger the city, the more likely the maintenance operation is to be leased, e.g., the City of Chicago, Indianapolis, Los Angeles County, and Mecklenburg County (Charlotte).
- Concession agreements, based on the demographic factors listed above, where the lessee is responsible for maintenance, rental payments to the municipality are likely to be:
  - In smaller cities, up to 12% of gross revenue on green fees and carts, 8% on merchandise and food and beverage.
  - In mid-size cities, rental payments, i.e., starting at 35% of gross revenue, will be payable after a defined level of revenues is achieved, i.e. >$2,000,000.
  - In large cities, rental payments, i.e., starting at 35% up to 50% of gross revenue will be payable on total revenue with a minimum revenue guarantee exceeding $100,000.
  - Where deferred capital expenditures are large, the agreement will specify significant capital projects to be completed by the concessionaire with a nominal rental payment, i.e., <2% on gross revenues.
